Hey, Fellas, Coed's An ROTC Cadet!

EXAMING AN M-1 rifle is Leslie Cummins, Parkersburg freshman and the first woman to enroll in an ROTC course at Marshall.

A Marshall First--Coed Takes Aim At Military Science As Minor Field

By KATHY SIX AND BARBARA ROBERTS
Feature Writers

A woman in ROTC?

That's right! Leslie Cummins, Parkersburg freshman, is the first girl to ever take a military science course at Marshall.

Asked why she was enrolled in ROTC, the five-foot four-inch brunette explained that she has always been interested in the armed forces and some day wishes to teach military science.

She decided to major in journalism and at the same time take enough ROTC courses to gain a minor in military science. She added, "My first love, though, is military science."

In order to schedule military science as a class, Leslie had to obtain permission from her adviser, her college dean, and from Col. Patrick H. Morgan, professor of military science.

Although she gets full credit for the class, Leslie is "informally" enrolled in military science. This means that she will not drill in a squad, she will not receive a commission nor a uniform, and she will be unable to attend summer camp.

Studying military orders and discipline isn't entirely new to Leslie she has read several books on the subject. She explained that she first became interested in the armed forces at the age of 10 when she read the book "West Point Plebe" by Col. Red Reeder. Influenced by this book, Leslie went on to read more widely on the subject.

She said she became even more interested in the armed forces a few years later when her two older brothers joined the Army.

Upon graduation from high school, Leslie enlisted in the Women's Marine Corps, but 10 days before her physical, she fell and suffered a head injury. Thus she was permanently ineligible for active duty.

Disappointed but not totally discouraged, Leslie started working for the Marine Corps recruiting station at Parkersburg.

In July, after a recommendation from Congressman Ken Hechler, she received a certificate of merit from the commandant of the Marine Corps, making her an honorary Marine Recruiter. Currently, she is assisting in the Huntington Marine recruiting office.

After working for the recruiting station in Parkersburg for seven months, Leslie decided to attend college and carry through her plans by means of the ROTC program.

Deciding on where to attend college was not a difficult question for the Parkersburg Catholic High School graduate. Last spring Leslie came to

Marshall and sat in on two military science classes before she decided on what college to attend. "That convinced me," she stated. She went on to say, "In my opinion, Marshall has the best Military Science Department in the nation."

Asked if perhaps the uniforms impressed her in her decision, she stated, "No, uniforms did not influence me. I wore uniforms to school for six years so I'm quite used to them." Although Leslie was not issued a uniform she regularly wears dark blue culottes and a white blouse. She hopes to obtain an ROTC arm patch to place on this outfit.

Since Leslie will not receive a commission she will not be able to teach military science on the college level. She explained that in many high schools there is a junior ROTC in which she would be able to teach.

Commenting on the men's reactions toward her in class, she said, "No one has been rude, in fact, everybody has been very nice. I like it here."

"When I walked into class the first day," she commented, "a boy told me that this was a military science class. I said that I knew it and he looked very shocked."

By DAVID PEYTON
Editor-in-Chief

Kathy McKinney, Charleston sophomore, a former member of the Marshall Human Relations Committee, says that the university has established "a very complacent committee for this year."

In an interview last Thursday, Miss McKinney, who was not renamed to the committee this year, said that in her opinion John E. Shay, dean of student affairs, who picked this year's committee, "does not understand the problem of integration."

Miss McKinney is the daughter of Howard McKinney, chairman of the West Virginia Human Rights Commission.

Commenting on this year's university committee she said, "On the whole, I think they have set up a very complacent committee that won't take steps to meet the needs of the campus. No one in the committee has contact with the students."

Dean Shay Silent

Miss McKinney said that Dean Shay told her last week that she was not renamed to the committee "because of my attitude." When asked to verify this statement, Dean Shay said that he had no comment and that "I'm not going to argue with Miss McKinney in the newspaper."

However, Dean Shay defended the present committee members by saying, "I think the present committee is a concerned, intelligent one. We should not have people on the committee with an axe to grind."

Dean Shay said the committee would meet within the next two weeks for the first time this year. He announced the meeting would be open but that he felt the press should not quote anything that came from the meeting.

Miss McKinney said that last year the committee recommended that all members of the committee returning to the university this year be reappointed, and that all returning members of the committee were reappointed except her. Dean Shay said that this was true.

According to Miss McKinney, the first time she heard that she had not been reappointed to the committee was the story in The Parthenon of two weeks ago. She said she went to the dean's office the following Monday, Sept. 20, to talk with Dean Shay about the matter.

It was then, according to Miss McKinney, that the dean told her he didn't like her attitude.

Incident Mentioned

She said that Dean Shay mentioned a specific incident of last year. The incident involved a group of Negro and white students who were allegedly threatened by two men on campus. The two, who were allegedly campus police, were said by the group to have drawn guns.

The two men and the group of students, including Miss McKinney, met with the administration of the university.

The incident was never referred to the university committee but rather to the Huntington Human Rights Committee.

Miss McKinney said that the dean had told her that her attitude was poor at the meeting. This, she said, seemed to be the reason for her not being reappointed.

Wendell English, Bluefield graduate student and a member of the committee, said Friday that he was surprised to hear the news. He said that he felt Miss McKinney did a good job on the committee last year. He said that he intended to talk to Dean Shay about the matter as soon as possible.

Slavin, Busbee Win Top Roles For Production

Lynn Slavin, Huntington senior, and Tom Busbee, Huntington junior, have been chosen to play the leads in the University Theatre production of Tennessee Williams' "A Streetcar Named Desire." Miss Slavin and Busbee will portray the characters of Blanche DuBois and Stanley Kowalski.

Dates for the play's presentation have been set for Nov. 11-13 in Old Main Auditorium. Rehearsals are being held Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings, and Friday afternoons.

Others in the cast are Sandra Lilly, Milton senior, as Stella Kowalski, Stanley's wife; Janie Bush, Huntington sophomore, and Steve Treacy, Huntington senior, as Eunice and Steve Hubbell; Dan Shepherd, Napierville, Ill. sophomore, as Harold Mitchell (Mitch); Mary Lechiara, Charleston sophomore, as a Mexican woman; Arthur Miller, Dunbar senior, as Pablo; Jerry Shields, Huntington senior, as a young paper boy; Janet Willey, Huntington sophomore, as a nurse; Richard Wagner, Clarksburg freshman, as a doctor; Larry Jordan, Huntington junior, as a vender; and Beverly Bowles and Alta Eblin, Charleston sophomore and junior respectively, as neighbors.

Director of the play is William Kearns, assistant professor of speech. Technical director is Charles Billings, associate professor of speech.

Pep Rally Tomorrow

The Robe, men's honorary fraternity, will sponsor a pep rally tomorrow at 8 p.m. on the intramural field. A bonfire, the band, cheerleaders, and the majorettes will highlight the event. The rally will also feature guests from the administration and athletic department. The rally will be in preparation for the Marshall-Toledo game Saturday at 8 p.m. at Fairfield Stadium. All students are urged to attend.

Aged Are Topic Of Conference

A conference on the problems of elderly people in Huntington will be held Oct. 30 in the Science Hall Auditorium.

The conference, sponsored by Marshall University and the West Virginia Commission of Aging, is being coordinated by Dr. James Richardson, professor of sociology. Dr. Richardson will be assisted by Dr. B. C. Harrington, chairman of the Commission on Aging.

Dr. Richardson spoke to the Steering Committee for the conference Sept. 9, when he presented a tentative program for the conference for discussion.

A general session will be held at 10 a.m. when the topic of organizing the community to promote services for older people will be presented. Speakers for this session will be Burton Aycock, regional representative of the Office of Aging, U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare; Mrs. Margaret Schweinhaut, chairman of the Maryland Commission on Aging; and Frank Gallagher, executive director of United Community Services, Inc. of Huntington.

The afternoon session will consist of workshops. Subjects of the workshops being offered and their respective chairmen are: health care, Dr. James Klumpp; income maintenance, Bernard Killen; church activities, Mrs. Garrett H. Evans; housing, Miss Mary Titus; and centers, The Rev. S. B. Cunningham.

Department. She seems to be extremely motivated toward it."

He added that other girls will be eligible to enroll informally in military science if they obtain permission from their individual college deans and advisers.

Sgt. Maj. James J. Dowling, who teaches military science 101, said that Leslie appears to be extremely interested in this sort of work.

He disclosed that although Leslie will be unable to participate in the 11 a.m. drill sessions, she will learn the skills in drilling in her class drills. At the regular 11 a.m. drills on Tuesdays, she will help the battalion in an administrative capacity.

CHI BETA PHI TO MEET

Chi Beta Phi science honorary will meet at 4 p.m. Friday in Science Hall Room 101. President Charles Yarborough, Huntington senior, urges all members to attend.

Student Court Ready To Hear First Case?

Homecoming Entertainment Eyed; Constitutional Amendments Ready

By DIANE MELROSE

Plans concerning this year's Homecoming, freshman elections, and the printing of a permanent Student Government manual were among the main concerns at the Senate meeting last Wednesday.

The weekend of Nov. 6 has been set by the Homecoming Committee as the official homecoming weekend. The Marshall football team will be returning to their home field after having spent three consecutive weeks on the road. The visiting team for the homecoming game will be Bowling Green.

The Four K's from the University of Kentucky, and the Chiffons are the temporary suggestions for entertainment, with the Collegiates from Huntington serving as a back-up group.

Possible places for the homecoming dance had been under investigation, but due to the lack of time and available space, the committee reported that the dance would be held in the Field House again. Arrangements have been made which will allow for approximately 75 additional couples to obtain tickets to the dance. With this addition there will be room for approximately 950 couples at the 1965 homecoming dance. Arrangements for the distribution of tickets will be announced at a later date.

The theme for the weekend as well as plans and rules will be submitted to the Senate for approval at tonight's meeting.

The Election Committee announced that Oct. 13 has been set as the date for the Freshman elections. They will be held in the basement of the Student Union from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Interested persons may file for office starting Oct. 1. The deadline has been set for 4 p.m. Oct. 6.

Tomorrow at 4 p.m. has been set as the time for the first orientation program for all potential candidates. All persons must be present or be represented. The purpose of the meeting is to inform all potential candidates of election rules and the general procedures of the election.

The Election Committee will present their suggested rules to the Senate for approval tonight.

The constitution, with all corrections and amendments, is also scheduled to come before the Senate tonight and if approved, will be included on the ballot on Oct. 13. If approved, the entire Marshall student body rather than just the freshman class will be involved in the elections on Oct. 13.

The revision and printing of a permanent Student Government manual was also discussed. This publication would include an explanation of all commissions as well as a general outline of the make-up of the student government.

Nancy Hickman, St. Albans junior, was appointed as executive secretary for the Student Government.

4 Join Staff In Chemistry

Dr. John H. Wotiz, chairman of the Chemistry Department, has announced four additions to the chemistry staff. They are Dr. James E. Douglass, Corpus Christi, Tex.; Dr. Arthur R. Lepley, Peoria, Ill.; Dr. Fredric G. Reynolds, Springfield, Ohio, and Dr. Clifton C. Thompson, Franklin, Tenn.

Dr. Douglass received his Ph. D. from the University of Texas in 1958 and did postdoctorate work at the Hickrill Foundation. He is serving as associate professor of organic and biochemistry.

Dr. Lepley earned his Ph. D. at the University of Chicago. His postdoctorate study was done there and at Munich. Dr. Lepley is an associate professor of organic, physical, and theoretical chemistry.

Dr. Reynolds, a Fulbright Fellow, received his doctorate through the Universities of Cincinnati and Paris, with postdoctoral study at Cincinnati. He holds the title of associate professor of physical, nuclear, and organometallic chemistry.

Dr. Thompson, the new assistant professor of chemical physics, and physical and theoretical chemistry, received his Ph. D. from the University of Mississippi. He also did postdoctorate work at the University of Texas.

Classical Group To Meet Oct. 5

The first meeting of the Classical Association was held Sept. 22. Bill Wambaugh, Huntington junior, led the discussion of Euripides' "The Trojan Women."

The next meeting will be held Oct. 5 in Old Main 210 at 3:00. Euripides' "Electra" will be discussed.

Programs for the coming semester will be concerned with Greek tragedies. Membership is open to students interested in Classical Languages and those wishing to join are invited to read "Electra" and attend the next meeting.

CLUB TO MEET

The International Club will meet tomorrow at 6 p.m. in the Campus Christian Center. New officers will be elected. All students are invited to attend.

For The KAs, Something New This Semester

KAPPA ALPHA ORDER really had something to "rush" with this semester. This 1956 Cadillac hearse belongs to Carl Nestmann, Charleston junior and KA active. Nestmann bought the car in Ohio earlier this year and the fraternity used it during rush week.

Steel Going Up For New Classroom Building

PROGRESS AT MU continues on the new classroom building. The Kinhill Construction Company recently began erection of the structural steel beams and girders. January 1967 has been set as the target date for completion.

Schedule For English Exam Is Announced By Department

The schedule for this year's English Qualifying Examination has been announced by Dr. A. Mervin Tyson, professor of English and department chairman.

All students who are not exempt from the composition exam must pass it before they can graduate, according to Professor Tyson.

During the first semester the exams will be given Nov. 20 and Jan. 22 at 9 a.m. in Science Hall Auditorium. Students whose last names begin with A-L are requested to take the exam in November; and those from M-Z, in January.

Chemistry Faculty Attend Convention

Marshall University's Chemistry Department was represented at the National Convention of the American Chemical Society by three members of the department's faculty.

Assistant Professors M. R. Chakrabarty, E. S. Hanrahan, and N. D. Heindel, attended the convention in Atlantic City, N. J., on Sept. 14-16.

Professor Hanrahan presided as Chairman of a session for presentation of papers on Chemical Education. He presented a paper written as a joint effort by Professor Chakrabarty, Herman Jenkins, Glenwood senior, and Professor Hanrahan.

Professor Heindel presented a paper before the Division of History of Chemistry. In the same division, Mrs. Nancy C. Warner, a graduate student in chemistry, delivered a talk which was co-authored by Dr. Heindel. He also spoke before the Medical Chemistry Section. This paper was a joint research project of Dr. Heindel and Miss Sally W. McNeill, a chemistry graduate student.

Dates for the second semester exams are April 2 and May 14. Summer term tests will be given July 2 and July 30.

Those who have an urgent reason for changing from one date to the other must see Professor Tyson before the exam.

Students eligible to take the examination are those who have 68 hours in engineering, 58 hours in other four-year programs or 45 hours in two-year programs.

Before taking the test, students must have passed both semesters of freshman English. Students who received an A or B in English 102A and foreign students for whom English is not a native language are exempt from the examination.

Teachers College students must pass the exam before they are eligible for student teaching.

Professor Tyson said students taking the examination may use a dictionary and a line guide. No books or paper are needed, but a pen must be used. Students must have their I.D. cards with them. No prior registration is necessary.

Persons who have failed the test on previous attempts must satisfactorily complete the English Composition Clinic in the next half-semester before retaking the exam. It may be taken as many times as necessary.

YOUNG GOP MEETING

The Young Republicans Club will meet tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the Science Hall Auditorium. Mr. Tom Crouser, state president of college Young Republicans will speak to the group. All interested students are invited to attend the session, according to Bill Evans, Huntington sophomore, president of the club.

Letters To The Editor

(Editor's Note: The Parthenon welcomes letters to the editor. The Parthenon editors reserve the right to edit letters in accordance with the West Virginia laws of libel, good taste and space available.)

Dear Editor:

We of the "Robe" are trying to make Marshall University's student card section even better than last year. However, we need the students' help and co-operation. Students will find below instructions and explanations concerning how the section operates.

1. Tickets for the section can be obtained from any "Robe" member or from the Student Government Office during the week before home games.

2. Members of the "Robe" are now captains for the sections.

3. Students with tickets MUST be in their seats by 25 to 40 minutes before the game starts. (for example — 7:30 or 1:30 p.m.).

4. Students without tickets are not allowed to sit in the section from the 50-yard line to the 40-South yard line.

5. Each row captain will have cards and instruction sheets for his row.

6. Each row will seat only 20 students — please do not crowd in more.

7. Each student within the row will be given an instruction sheet stating what his part is in the stunt. Some of the students possibly will simply bend over with the card in front of their faces and raise up when the count is given, while others may have to "flip" their cards. In any event the instruction sheet will state what colors to use and whether or not the student must flip his card during the stunt.

8. When instruction sheets are passed out, each row member is to take the top sheet and pass the additional sheets to his left.

9. Cards of specific colors will be passed out by the row captain. Members of the row are to take the top card and pass the additional cards to the left. After the stunt has been completed the cards are to be passed back to the right — one color at a time and instruction sheets separately.

10. Stunts will occur during the first, second and third quarters — at a time specified by the card section leader. Students MUST remain in their seats at these times.

1. Members of each row are expected to conduct themselves in a mature manner at ALL times. Anyone not doing so will be asked to leave or be escorted, if necessary.

Marshall University has a MAC championship team on its campus. Let's get behind the team, cheerleaders, band, and the Greenbackers Card Section.

Success depends on you — you are Marshall University!!!!

Union Activities Include Dances, Films, Contests

The large enrollment this semester is evident in large crowds at comparatively small places — like the University Cafeteria, and Shawkey Student Union.

One of the most popular events at the Union is the Wednesday Night Mix. The first two mixes drew large numbers of students — the first one on Sept. 15 which featured the music of the Coachmen, and the second on Sept. 22, with music by the Dynamiks.

Tonight the Union hosts the Mortalities. The mix starts at 7:30 p.m. and ends at 10 p.m.

W. Don Morris, Union director, and John Beaver, assistant director, announce that various tournaments will be held in the Union throughout the semester.

These tournaments will include: bridge, (both duplicate and contract), hearts, pinocle, table tennis (both men's and women's singles and doubles), straight pocket billiards, carom billiards, three-rail billiards, chess and checkers.

In addition, the Union presents library films every Friday night. Such motion pictures as "Move Over Darling," "Wheeler Dealer," "Love with a Proper Stranger," and "The V. I. P.'s," will be shown. Admission price is 25 cents per student.

Housing Director Lists 20 Vacancies

Kenneth Cohen, housing director, announced that there are 20 vacancies in university housing.

The vacancies are: West and Prichard Halls for women, 12, and South Hall for men, 5. An additional three vacancies for men are in the Prichard Hotel in downtown Huntington.

Applications for rooms should be made in person to Mr. Cohen in Room 122 in Old Main between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. They may be submitted starting today.

"Rooms will be given on a first-come, first-serve basis," said Mr. Cohen.

Choirs Audition

Dr. Paul Balshaw, new chorus director of Marshall, announced Monday that auditions would be held for the Choral Union and the Acappella Choirs on Oct. 11.

Dr. Balshaw is in charge of two other choirs—the symphonic and the madrigal choirs. The 36-member symphonic and the 14-member madrigal choirs don't have a definite schedule for presentations as of yet.

"The Messiah," by George Frederick Handel, will be presented by the Choral Union. No definite date has been decided.

AMID CHEERS AND handshakes, newly-selected fraternity pledges were greeted by their respective fraternities in ceremonies at the Science Hall last Friday. A list of the pledges will be announced in Friday's Parthenon.

Pre-Med Group Sets Program

Dr. Ralph Edeburn, professor of zoology and adviser to Alpha Epsilon Delta, the international pre-medical honor society, announced this semester's program.

The program includes a three-part film series, an outing, and a meeting of special concern to all freshmen interested in pre-medical, pre-dental, pre-pharmacy, or other related fields.

The three-part film series, which is produced by the Student American Medical Association, will be on the making of a doctor. The films will be shown during the months of October, November, and December. The dates of the films will be announced at a later time.

On Oct. 12, AED will hold a meeting for all interested freshmen. The meeting will take place in Science Hall at 11 a.m.

The outing, which will be held at Trailwood Acres, is scheduled next Saturday for members and dates.

Band Is Seeking 5 More Members

There are openings in the Big Green band for approximately five additional players, according to Howard Bell, band director and professor of music.

The Green and White marching band is in need of a drummer, trombone, trumpet, saxophone, and baritone horn players. Applicants should have previous marching experience. No audition is necessary. Anyone who is interested should contact Professor Bell in Room 110, Music Building.

PICK UP CHECKS

All students who have loans or scholarships are instructed to pick up their checks no later than 4:30 p.m. Oct. 8. Otherwise their checks may be cancelled.

Big Green Gains 2nd Victory, 28-12

GEORGE KOSANOVICH (in photo at left) and Tom Good were among those praised by Coach Charlie Snyder for their defensive game in Saturday's win over Eastern Kentucky. Kosanovich intercepted two Eastern passes and Good, while being watched by San Diego Charger scout Charlie Flowers had 10 tackles, 15 assists and one intercepted pass.

Jackson Scores 4 TD's, Sets Ball-Toting Record

By HARRY FISHER
Sports Editor

The Marshall University Thundering Herd won their second straight game of the young 1965 football season by defeating the Eastern Kentucky Maroons 28-12 last Saturday at Richmond, Ky.

Mickey Jackson, leading ground gainer in the Mid-American Conference, chewed up 145 yards of Kentucky turf in a record 31 carries. Jackson scored all four Marshall touchdowns in living up to his advance billing as MAC back-of-the-week for his fine performance against Morehead last week.

In carrying the ball 31 times the Marshall speedster broke the old single game record set by Jack Mahone against Western Michigan last year. The little tailback should be among the nations leaders in scoring with his seven touchdowns. Jackson's 236 yards gained rushing also should place him in the national rankings.

Head football coach Charlie Snyder was well pleased with the offensive play of the Thundering Herd. He said the offensive line charged real well and was a big factor in making the running game work.

Snyder said the passing game looked much better than against Morehead. Quarterback Howie Miller completed 7 of 15 against Eastern for 86 yards. He completed four to end Ken Simpson for 49 yards.

Along with Jackson in the Marshall backfield, fullback Andy Socha duplicated his performance against Morehead by rushing for 72 yards.

The Marshall coach lauded the defensive play of the Herd. The Big Green defensive backfield limited the highly vaunted Maroon passing attack to 145 yards and one touchdown. Cornerback George Kosanovich intercepted two passes and all MAC linebacker Tom Good one. Both Maroon quarterbacks Larry Marmie and Jim Guice had to face the blitzing MU defensive unit all afternoon.

Coach Snyder said that the defensive play of the ends was much improved over that of last Saturday against Morehead. He said, "McLaughlin and Ferrari had to play a great game to contain the likes of Carter and Marsh." Ferrari, a Beckley Junior College transfer student, and defensive back Ray Henderson blocked the extra point try after the first touchdown.

The defensive line forced the Maroons into three fumbles. All three were covered by Marshall. End Dave Arritt covered the first fumble, by Marmie on the Maroon 31 yard line in the first quarter. Four plays later Mickey Jackson carried it over from the six for the Herd's first touchdown. Guard Clyde Owens covered two fumbles for Marshall, one in the second and one in the third quarter.

Eastern Kentucky coach Roy Kidd said of Middle linebacker Good, "We knew their linebacker was a fine ball player, and he did everything we knew he'd do." Good made 10 tackles, 15 assists and intercepted one pass to bring his seasons total to two.

Watching Good from the stands was San Diego scout Charlie Flowers. Good was a future draft choice of the Chargers last year.

Marshall came out of the game with no major injuries and should be in good shape personnel-wise for their game with Toledo this Saturday at Fairfield Stadium.

In other MAC action, next weeks opponent Toledo shut out the Quantico Marines 9-0, Kent State defeated Dayton 14-6, and Western Michigan defeated Central Michigan 21-13. On the other side of the coin Ohio lost to powerful Maryland 24-7 at Maryland, Bowling Green, MAC defending champs, were clobbered by West Texas State 34-0 and Miami was nudged by Xavier 29-28.

Shepard, MAC Golf Champ, Gains 5th Tournament Win

It may seem a little cold for golf but Marshall's Mid-American Individual Golf Champion Dick Shepard won his fifth tournament since last spring.

The Marshall slammer came from behind with a second round, three-under-par 67 to win the first annual Sugarwood Country Club Invitational golf tournament with a 36-hole total of 139. The tournament was played last weekend.

Marshall University almost made it a one-two finish as Dave Carter, Milton sophomore, placed third, just one stroke behind runner-up Don Allen.

Shepard had an opening day score of 72 that put him 2 strokes behind Allen, 3 behind Carter and Gerald Lyons and 4 behind Sid Miller, the first day leader.

Shepard began his trail of tournament wins by winning the MAC individual title, then added the Glenbrier Invitational, the Spring Valley Invitational and the Spring Valley Club titles to his collection.

A great chip shot on the 18th hole saved Shepard's victory over Allen. Shepard birdied the 3rd, 13th and the 17th holes and parred the rest for his 67.

Cross Country Team Gains Tie

The Marshall University cross country team opened the 1965 season tying Morehead 28-28 in a meet held at Ritter Park.

Marshall's Gary Prater and Earl Jackson finished first and second respectively, but Morehead evened the score by finishing third, fourth, sixth, seventh, eighth, and tenth.

Marshall will meet West Virginia State today at Institute.

Organizational meeting of Le Cercle Francais, the French Club, will be held Oct. 14 at 3:30 p.m. in Room 212 of the Music Building, announced Charles Lloyd, Huntington junior.

Membership is open to all French students interested in language studies. Blanks to be filled out by prospective members denoting special interests and talents in French may be obtained from members of the department.

Dollgener Cites Opening Sports

The opening sports of the fall intramural athletic program has been announced by Robert Dollgener, Director of Intramural Athletics. The program consists of touch football and volleyball.

The touch football season started Sept. 21. The program consists of 32 teams with each team playing four regular season games followed by a single elimination tournament to determine the champions.

Anyone interested in officiating touch football games should contact the Intramural Office. Officials earn one point per game for their organization in the intramural program. Final rosters for touch football will be due Oct. 1, with an entry fee of one dollar.

The volleyball program started Monday with a single elimination tournament. 21 teams make up the volleyball program.

Counseling Service Open To Students

Students having problems selecting a vocation or developing a study program will be offered counseling services from 2 to 3 p.m. Monday through Thursday in Room 324 in Old Main.

Dr. Clark Hess, professor of education, explained that many students, particularly freshmen, have had no previous counseling and are just taking courses with no special pattern.

The purpose of this program is to help these students iron out problems, either vocational or those pertaining to selection of subjects.

H. S. Journalists Here

HIGH SCHOOL journalism students gathered in Science Hall Auditorium for the opening General Assembly of the annual Fall Journalism Workshop last Saturday. Students came from 29 West Virginia high schools.

225 Delegates Attend Session For Journalists

High school journalists and journalism teachers from throughout West Virginia convened at Marshall last Saturday for the Journalism Department's Fall Workshop for high school yearbooks and newspapers.

Two hundred and twenty-five students and teachers attended.

The all-day meeting was in conjunction with a meeting of the West Virginia Journalism Teachers Association. In the meeting, the association established a committee to collect data on the teaching of mass communications in state high schools.

While the teachers met, the students convened in various journalism workshops on campus. There were workshops on yearbooks, photography, newspaper reporting, copyediting and other subjects.

Delegates to the workshop met in the basement of the cafeteria for a luncheon.

Delegates to the workshop came from the following high schools: Barboursville, Huntington East, St. Joseph's, McKinley Junior, Scott, East Bank, Wayne, Bethany, Collins, Ceredo-Kenova, Huntington High, Parkersburg Catholic, Vinson, St. Albans, Ravenswood, Mt. Hope, Gilbert, Buffalo of Wayne, Guyan Valley, Buffalo of Putnam County, Hamlin, Marshall High, Hurricane, South Charleston, Dunbar, Logan, Pt. Pleasant, Gary, George Washington, Fort Gay and Dupont.

Three Tests Set By Peace Corps

The Peace Corps Placement Test will be given in room 22 of the Post Office Building on Oct. 9 and Nov. 13 at 9 a.m., and on Dec. 6 at 3 p.m.

Any citizen of the United States who is 18 years of age or over and, who has no dependents under 18, is eligible to take the test.

Applicants must fill out a Peace Corps questionnaire. These forms are available at the Post Office Building and must be submitted before the test can be taken.

Negro Students To Be Selected For Internship Programs Soon

Howard University, Washington, D. C., has announced a Foreign Affairs Scholars Program designed to prepare talented Negro students and other minorities for careers in the Foreign Service.

Forty juniors will be selected from universities and colleges throughout the United States, and will be offered paid internships in State Department, AID, and USA during the summer of 1966. They may receive supplementary educational assistance of various kinds during their senior year in the colleges in which they are enrolled. Of these 40 students, 25 will be chosen during their senior year to receive fellowships, ranging up to $4,000, for a year of graduate study in foreign affairs fields in institutions selected by the program staff.

The program is administered by Howard University in cooperation with the Department of State, The Agency for International Development, and the United States Information Agency.

Interested Marshall students should write to the Foreign Affairs Scholars Program, Howard University, Washington, D. C. Other information is available in the office of the vice-president of academic affairs.
